Advocacy is...

Giving you a voice

Supporting you to access your rights

Promoting social inclusion

Some of the ways advocacy can make a difference

-  Get the right care and support
-  Find out about local services and activities
-  Make choices and decisions about important things in your life
-  Help you prepare and speak up in meetings with professionals
-  Develop your self advocacy skills
-  Have your say about local and national issues
-  Complain when things have gone wrong

Advocates are...

Experienced in working with people who have communication difficulties

Qualified in the Independent Advocacy Award (or working towards it)

Referenced and DBS checked, with ongoing training and supervision

Non-judgemental

Independent of the Local Authority and all other services

People who keep things you say confidential (unless you or someone else is in danger)
